Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 08 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Turning cold again with sharp overnight frosts and wintry showers.

Today:
A bright start in the south, with sunny spells in any cloud breaks. Rain and cloud then pushes south through the morning with the rain turning persistent and heavy in places. Turning drier and bright in the north later. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud and rain, turning wintry, continuing to edge slowly south with long dry and clear spells developing from the north. More cloud with the odd wintry shower in the northwest. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Saturday:
Dry and clear with bright spells further north but cloud and rain in the south, perhaps wintry in places, will slowly edge back northwards. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cold on Sunday, with further wintry showers near the coast. Turning milder Monday, with a strengthening breeze and most parts dry. A fine dry day on Tuesday with sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.